Mock Project using the SAFI Dataset

Introduction

We are research data stewards and I work for Erasmus University Rotterdam. I am conducting research on how we can use the Yoda Archive, the place to store materials about research.

I will explain the study below. If you have any questions, please ask me. While reading, you can mark parts of the text that are unclear to you.

If you want to participate in the study, you can indicate this at the end of this form.

What is the research about?

The research is about whether we can make a mock project

Why are we asking you to participate?

We ask you to participate because your experience as a citizen helps us to understand the world.

What can you expect?

The study lasts 30 minutes.

If you participate in this study, you will take part in:

A survey:

You will receive a questionnaire by email or post.

You can fill in the questionnaire yourself or together with me.

You decide whether to participate

Participation in this study is completely voluntary. [Not participating will not affect your work or work-related assessments or reports/ If you do not participate then your [type of care; treatment] will continue as usual].

You can stop at any time and would not need to provide any explanation.

What are the potential risks and discomforts?

We do not anticipate any risks or discomforts while participating in this study.

What do you get for participating?

We will pay you XX for your time as well as a travel reimbursement.

If you quit the study earlier, you will be paid for the parts you participated in.

What data will I ask you to provide?

I will store your data so that I can be in contact with you. For the study, I will also need other data from you.

During the survey, the following personal data will be collected from you: village that you live in, number of household members, number of years living in a given village, type of wall in the house, number of rooms for sleeping, irrigation association membership, frequency of being affected by a conflict, count of livestock count, items owned by a household, number of meals per day, month with no food available.

At Erasmus University, we conduct scientific research. We do this to learn, help people, and contribute to society. Since we are an academic institution conducting scientific research, we process your personal data exclusively for research on the basis of public interest.

Who can see your data?

- We store all your data securely.
- We will write an article about the results of the study which will be published (publicly share the results) in (academic) journals and/or books. The results will be accessible by anyone.
- We may use your specific answers in the article. If your answer can be traced to you or we would like to mention your name, we will ask your permission first.

How long will your personal data be stored?

Your data will be retained for a minimum of 10 years. We retain the data so that other researchers have the opportunity to verify that the research was conducted correctly.

Using your data for new research

(Part of) the data we collect may be useful in anonymized form, for example for educational purposes and future research, including in very different research areas. We will make the data publicly available after proper anonymization. We ensure that the data cannot be traced back to you/we do not disclose anything that identifies you.

What happens with the results of the study?

We publish the results on a website [website] so that interested parties can learn about the study.

Do you have questions about the study?

If you have any questions about the study or your privacy rights, such as accessing, changing, deleting, or updating your data, please contact me.

Do you have a complaint or concerns about your privacy? Please email the Data Protection Officer (fg@eur.nl) or visit www.autoriteitpersoonsgegevens.nl. (T: 088 - 1805250)

Do you regret your participation?

Until you submit the survey, you can still decide not to take part in the research. After you click 'send', we cannot trace what data you have shared with us anymore.

Ethics approval

This research has been reviewed and approved by an internal review committee of Erasmus University Rotterdam. This committee ensures that research participants are protected. If you would like to know more about this RERC/IRB, please contact XXXX.

Declaration of Consent

I have read the information letter. I understand what the study is about and what data will be collected from me. I was able to ask questions as well. My questions were adequately answered. I know that I am allowed to stop at any time.

I understand that my data will be anonymized for publication, and further use for teaching and research; and

I understand that my data may be used in pseudonymized form for other scientific research.
